LINDOLEUM

needs this SPECIAL CARE

1. Sweep daily with soft hair brush to remove dust and grit. Never Use Sweeping Compounds unless specially supplied for Indoleum.
2. Clean up mud and stains promptly with cloth or mop dampened with a solution of water and a little Mild white soap. No Lye or Harsh "G.I." Soap Should Ever Be Used.
3. Wipe the washed area immediately with cloth dampened in clear water, and allow to dry.
4. Then wax with thin coat of wax. Polishing is not necessary unless a high lustre is desired.
5. Wax traffic lanes once a week or oftener if necessary to maintain a protective film of wax.

DUMMY INSTALLATIONS Builders' tool inspectors replace the panel practice under simulated field conditions.

SCREEN PROJECTIONS Make frequent use of training films, the slides, film strips, or handcolor projections.

CHARTS Visual representations of facts must be simple and logical and help explain part of the lesson.

MODELS Real models, the size or enlarged size dimensional substitutes for actual objects. Models give a concrete visual learning experience.

SAND TABLES A shallow box of sand can be used to show accurate representations of a tactical situation.

GRAPHIC PORTFOLIO A series of large charts bound together presents the complete story of one subject.

MINNEAPOLIS Flying Fortress Defeats Six Jap Planes at Wake

HEADQUARTERS, HAWAIIAN AIR FORCE—(AP)—An American flying fortress on a secret mission to Japanese-held Wake Island destroyed four of six Japanese planes which rose to attack it and returned to its base with three bullet holes as the only damage.

A fifth enemy plane probably was destroyed and the sixth, which followed the fortress to a point 150 miles from Wake, was given only a 50-50 chance to make its way back to its base because of prevailing bad weather.

The attack occurred last weekend.

• • •
"We just disintegrated the Jap planes," said Major George B. Glo-ber, of San Angelo, Texas. "It takes only a few of our 50 caliber shots to disintegrate them."
